600 MAYORS ASK THE U.S. SENATE:

WILL YOU STAND WITH US, OR GUT OUR PUBLIC SAFETY LAWS?

Dear Majority Leader Reid and Members of the U.S. Senate:

The Senate may soon consider dangerous legislation that would usurp the authority of states to set their own minimum standards for who can—and more importantly, who can't—carry a concealed, loaded gun in public. This forced concealed carry reciprocity legislation would require states to recognize permits issued in other states, even if those other states have far weaker standards.

We mayors strenuously oppose any federal attempt to strip cities and states of the authority to set our own public safety laws. Doing so would threaten the safety of our citizens by putting loaded guns in the hands of people who are too dangerous to qualify for a local permit. And it would put our police officers at risk by making it far more difficult to distinguish law-abiding gun owners from dangerous criminals.

Simply put, Congress should not be undercutting our state laws, our law enforcement, or our public safety.

Senators: We urge you not to gut your own state's public safety laws. Currently, 38 states deny concealed carry by people convicted of certain dangerous misdemeanors, 29 states deny concealed carry by alcohol abusers, and 35 states require applicants to complete gun safety training. All these laws would be eviscerated.

These basic standards matter. Today, a bipartisan coalition of 600 mayors, along with major police organizations, domestic violence experts, prosecutors and faith leaders, is asking you to stand with us to protect the public safety laws that your own states have adopted. The safety of our local communities and the lives of innocent Americans are on the line.

Where do you stand?
